W. H. L. King & Co. - J.

Thursday noon.

Dearest Mother,

I got your lovely letter this morning and was greatly rejoiced over it.

The boys' supper sounded ^{sounded} ~~like~~ fine. What did Jack and Bob say, may I ask?

When is the last day of dancing school? Can it possibly be when I am at home?

I hadn't realized that Mrs. Fay was so sick as all that — I just had an idea that she was feeling

"poorly". Was Evelyn been at home?

I had a letter from Elizabeth herself the other in which she let out nothing that would lead me to believe Mitch's statement.
You know E — isn't of a secretive nature so I'm inclined to think she'd have said something about it herself. However, Mitch ought to know what's doing. E — told me that Mr. Norman has turned Episcopalian. You know
she is one, too.

I am sure your plan for the pink dress will be fine. I shall try to wear the dress as it is a few more times. About every time I plan to put it on the weather is bad or something happens. I have had no note from Janet as yet, but it may come this P.M.

I had a short letter from 'Gene' this A.M. in which he said that Bess has been so far from well that she has had to give up her music for a time. He also mentioned not having heard a thing from Jack & the fact that he has several trophies which Jack left. Three, in fact.

Helen Crocker has her ^{left} arm in a sling for neuritis. About every other girl here is troubled with it to some degree or other. Did I tell you what her marks really were? If not, let me know, as I don't want to repeat. She asked me to take lunch with her^{self} and father a week from today & then we two could go to the Semitic Museum in Cambridge together, as that trip is required in Bible 10. However, as I can't go there & to Dennison House the same day, she thinks she'll wait & go to Cambridge with me the Saturday after that (the 15th).

 That day Helen is going home over Sunday for Kath's birthday. I am bidden but balked for once. Tell me, what little thing can I get to send up to Kath?
 I may decide on a bouquet of flowers. Do you know of any pretty little book I might get? Also, what tiny offerings may I get for the boys for Easter.

I want to send each of them a little something.
What color is Austin's best tie? I thought possibly he might like a bordered silk hdkf, to match his tie, which he could use in dancing-school the way big boys do. I suppose I might get each of the others a plain white silk one. If you have any ideas, please let me know.
Shall I get the stuff for your waist or wait & talk

it over with you?

I have two themes and several other lessons awaiting me, so will have to stop. Do you realize that this is the fourth letter home in five days? Also, that three weeks from tomorrow I start for Bath. Am going to a lecture on adolescence this eve: "The young girl in Sunday School" or something to that effect. Tomorrow eve. there is a required Econ. lecture, Sat. P.M. We're going to town, Sat. night the N. Y. Wellesley Club gives a play at the Barry, Sun. P.M. some Deaconess ^{from N. Y. holds a Lenten service} at Shakespeare, and Mon. eve. the 1st of those elocution things comes. Oh, yes, & tomorrow P.M. there is another organ recital at Chapel & Miss Quill (Lit. teacher) has an "at home". I intend to take in all these things. Have a Lit. quiz Sat. a.m. - Pray for me, that I may get more than a D.
Love to all,
Janet,
Thanks for those gloves, - they're all right.
J.E.D.
